MV "PANTANAL" at Cashla Bay / West Coast of Ireland

The MV "PANTANAL" has been visited by her Classification Society Germanischer Lloyd (GL) yesterday and a diver inspection was carried out. Unfortunately besides some indentation four cracks to the outer shell plating of the ballast tank section were found which lead to water ingress. Water ingress on board is under control by the ship's command. We are now planning to have the vessel sailed with the assistance of local authorities and her class.

We are grateful for the assistance received so far from local authorities, specialists and class. We are carrying out a thorough investigation.
