MV "PANTANAL" - Grounding in Cashla Bay on March 31st, 2011 / West Coast of Ireland

The vessel is still safely anchored in the Galway Bay. We have contracted local divers to carry out temporary repair the vessel's hull which is expected to be finalized on Sunday April 10th. Thereafter the vessel will sail to Bremerhaven ship yard for permanent repairs.

Meanwhile an official casualty investigation was initiated by the Irish Maritime Directorate Authority and started on Thursday April 7th, 2011 and is completed by now.
